

20 miles

Section 1
Day 5

Drummore to Portpatrick

Another perfect launch, this could only happen for RowAround 2020.

Gibby briefed the Coastguard first thing.

Our crew combined the die hards of Wigtown Bay, Stranraer, & Hippo.

The longest stretch of coastline yet, but with spectacular scenery & wildlife along the way. This marathon took us around the Mull of Galloway, Scotland's most southerly point.

Overfalls and rips are legendary here, but with Phil, returned from North Berwick, we were in safe hands.

Port Logan Bay for a break, and we were following the coast north past Morroch Bay arriving in good time at Portpatrick. Great food, great company & a much needed rest day looming after Tommy's legendary hospitality.

Today's Crew

Louise

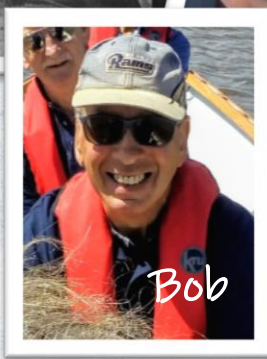

Jacqueline & Hamish

Roy

Athena

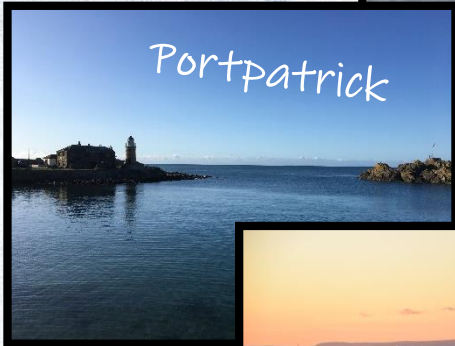

Bob

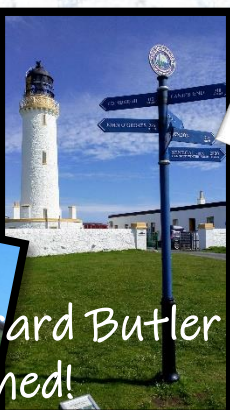

Jacqueline says, 'What's not to love about being on the water; Peaceful, changing, unpredictability and ruggedness. It's beautiful!'

Port Logan

Portpatrick

No Sign of Gerard Butler must've Vanished!

